1 Introduction

This manual contains information on the compilation of the International Trade in services questionnaire, the definitions of the types of services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses, and a list of country codes.

1.1 Change country code Kosovo from 2022 onwards

Since 2022, we ask companies to provide their trade in services with Kosovo using the country code XK instead of RS. Prior to 2022, companies were asked to report Kosovo with the code RS under Serbia.

If your company reported Kosovo with RS in previous years, we kindly request that you make necessary adjustments in your records to the code XK for Kosovo as of 2022.

1.2 Who has to report

The data required for the survey on International trade in services have to be reported by companies that provide services to non-resident companies and/or persons, or purchase services from non-resident companies. Also companies which are active in merchanting trade and/ or trade from Dutch custom warehouses with non-residents are asked to submit their figures. The required data refer to transactions during the period under review. If your company doesn't have any international transactions during the period under review, you report this with a nil declaration.

1.3 Obligation

Companies are legally required to deliver data on International Trade in services directly to Statistics Netherlands.

1.4 Responsibility

The company that is obliged to report data to statistics Netherlands has a possibility to outsource the completing of the questionnaire to a co-called Third party. However the company that is obliged to report remains fully responsible for providing an accurately completed questionnaire on time.

1.5 Reporting period

The survey on 'International trade in services' is a quarterly survey. This means that the completed questionnaire should be related to the specified calendar quarter (January-March, April-June etc.).

1.6 Deadline

The quarterly submission has to be received by Statistics Netherlands within 30 calendar days after the end of the relevant quarter.

1.7 International services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses

The international services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses are broken down into major categories in this survey. Most major categories are further broken down into specific services. We refer to sections 3.4 and 3.5 for a detailed explanation on services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses.

1.8 What is required to be reported

The imports and/or exports of services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses should be reported for the survey on 'International trade in services' and should be specified by type of service and by country (see chapter 3). We ask the companies with a relative smaller size of services trade to split the value of their services by EU and non-EU, relatively larger services traders are asked to split their services by country code.

Please note: this questionnaire should be completed according to the services your business trades, and not according to the nature of your business.

Please report all amounts in thousands of euros . For example: an amount of € 23,669 has to be reported as 24.

2 Data delivery

The IDEP application allows you to submit your data on 'International trade in services' manually or by importing it from a file.

2.1 Manual data entry

Manual data entry is intended for companies with a limited number of service/country combinations in each declaration. If you regularly use the same service/country combinations in your submissions then it is useful to save this layout as a 'submission template'.

2.2 Import of data

If you have to enter a large number of service/country combinations, you can choose to organize your data in a file. This file can then be uploaded in the IDEP application.

This application offers you the possibility to upload your data from multiple formats (such as Excel, Access and TXT). By clicking on the chosen template you can see how it is structured. It is important that the structure of your file for columns matches the structure of the standard template.

2.3 Imports and exports of trade in services within and outside the European Union

Do you need to break down your imports and exports of services to trade within and outside the European Union? If so, you have two options to supply country codes.

1. You convert the country codes per service into Z1 (European Union) or Z2 (Outside European Union) in your own administration. Afterwards, you can copy these data into the file you are going to import.
2. As of 2022, it is also possible to supply a separate country code per service in the file. The country codes are automatically converted to Z1 or Z2 during loading in IDEP.

2.4 Import and export of trade in services by country

Do you have to report your imports and exports of trade in services by country? Then, you do need to specify the country code in the file per service itself.

2.5 Questions about reporting data

For technical questions, please contact the CBS Contact Centre at contactcenter@cbs.nl. For content related questions, please contact the staff of International Trade in Services at: InternationaleHandelInDiensten@cbs.nl.

3 Explanation of services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses

3.1 Key definitions

International trade in services

International trade in services comprises transactions on services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch customs warehouses between a resident (your company) and non-residents (companies or persons).

The international character of the service, merchanting and trade from Dutch custom warehouses is determined by the matter of transaction (e.g. transaction with non-resident company or person), not by cross border movement of services.

Residents
(your company)

Residents are companies and persons engaged in economic activities within the Dutch economy and domiciled in the Netherlands for more than one year.

Non-residents
(foreign vendors or customers)

Non-residents have their economic domicile outside the Netherlands. Foreign branches and foreign subsidiaries of the Dutch companies abroad are considered as non-residents.

Exports
(amount received by your company)

The amount charged by your company to a non-resident company or person for providing of international services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses. The country where the recipient of these services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses resides determines the country of destination.

Imports
(amount paid by your company)

The amount charged to your company by a non-resident company or person for providing of international services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses. The country where the supplier of these services, merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses resides determines the country of origin.

Value of the transaction

In order to determine the value of your transactions per type of service, you can generally use the accounting data (or general ledger) of your company. The transaction value to be used for your submission is the invoice value that the supplier of services charges to the customer, including VAT if it is invoiced by the counterparty. You should provide the gross value of revenue and expenditure according to the nature of the transaction, and not the net balance after any internal balancing e.g. with your counterparties.

Inter-company transactions Inter-company services or recharged services between your company and a non-resident parent or subsidiary should be allocated as good as possible to the relevant service codes.

3.2 Where can you find information relevant for this survey in your business accounts?

Data on services should preferably be obtained from your company's accounts or general ledger. Below we give you some guidelines on how to find the necessary data in case you experience any difficulties.

In the majority of cases, you can find the information needed for the survey in the invoices of your counterparties. The address of the non-resident customers or suppliers can be used to identify non-resident counterparties and to differentiate them from the invoices with the resident counterparties (NL). You can also use your VIES declaration to the Dutch Tax Office as a reference of your service trade within the EU. More information on how to deal with the data from VIES declaration can be found in section 3.3

The transactions on services, relevant for this survey can then be selected from the invoices (such as debit notes, credit notes, etc.). Furthermore, you can examine your transactions in accounts receivable or payable, which are related to trade in services with non-resident counterparties.

3.3 Which data from your business accounts can you use for this survey?

If your company is active on trade in services with companies abroad, it has specific tax obligations, such as compiling of your VAT declaration and the declaration on intra-Community trade (VIES). In your VIES declaration, you fill in the intra-Community goods as well as the intra-Community services that you delivered to the companies in other EU countries, which can be seen as a specification of the amount that you enter in section 3b of your company's VAT return.

We use your VIES declaration to check your submission. The VIES data serves as a frame of reference for your exports of services within the EU. Information on intra-Community trade by Dutch companies is exchanged with the tax offices of other EU countries. We receive information from the EU tax authorities from other EU countries with regards to the intra-Community services that are provided to your company by the businesses domiciled in these countries. This data is used as a reference point for checking your submitted imports of services from the EU.

Please, note: the survey 'International trade in services' concerns your total trade with countries both inside and outside the EU.

Merchanting trade and trade from Dutch custom warehouses

Code	Service	Description
GTX	Merchanting: purchase and sale of goods	Merchanting is when your company purchases goods from a non-resident company and subsequently resells these goods to another non-resident company. The goods purchased and resold do not cross the Dutch border. Exports: refers to the sales value of the goods under merchanting charged by your company to a non-resident company. Imports: refers to the purchase value of the goods under merchanting charged by a non-resident company to your company. Please note: In the case of transit trade, your company must report both purchases and sales of goods. Reporting only purchase or sale of goods is not allowed. You have to report the purchase of goods under merchanting (as imports) in the quarter these goods are resold (as exports) even if the actual purchase occurs in a previous quarter. Goods under merchanting do not undergo any substantial processing between the moment of purchase and reselling. Goods purchased that do undergo substantial processing before being sold are not considered as goods under merchanting and do not have to be reported as either imports or exports. This is also known as ABC-trade of transit trade. Excluding: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - freight transport services (to be recorded under Freight transport – code SC12, SC22, SC3B2, SC3C2, SC3D2) - freight insurance services (to be recorded under Freight insurance: premiums and claims - code SF12Y, SF12Z) Transit trade chart:  The chart illustrates the flow of goods, ownership, and cash in a transit trade scenario. A solid double-headed arrow connects Country B producer and Country C purchaser, representing the physical movement of goods. A dotted double-headed arrow connects Country B producer and Country A merchant, representing the ownership of goods. A solid arrow points from Country A merchant to Country C purchaser, representing cash flow, with the value 100. A solid arrow points from Country B producer to Country A merchant, representing cash flow, with the value 80. A legend on the right identifies the arrow types: a solid double-headed arrow for 'Physical movement of goods', a dotted double-headed arrow for 'Ownership of goods', and a solid arrow for 'Cash flow'.

GEX	Dutch custom warehouses: purchase and sale of goods	The purchase and sale of goods from Dutch custom warehouses is when your company purchases goods from a non-resident company and stores these goods in a Dutch custom warehouse till the moment they are resold to another non-resident company. It only refers to goods that are stored in Dutch warehouses under T1 (non-Union goods) state. These goods leave the Netherlands without having been cleared in the Netherlands. Exports: refers to the sales value of the custom warehouse goods charged by your company to a non-resident company. Imports: refers to the purchase value of the custom warehouse goods charged to your company by a non-resident company. Please note: In the case of trade via Dutch bonded warehouses, your company should report both purchase and sale of goods. Reporting only purchase or sale of goods is not allowed. You have to report the purchase of goods from custom warehouse (as imports) in the quarter these goods are resold (as exports) even if the actual purchase occurs in a previous quarter. Excluding: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - goods cleared by customs from a customs warehouse in the Netherlands (do not have to be reported) - freight transport services (to be recorded under Freight transport – code SC12, SC22, SC3B2, SC3C2, SC3D2) - freight insurance services (to be recorded under Freight insurance: premiums and claims - code SF12Y, SF12Z)

3.6 Country codes according to Eurostat Vademecum 2022

Change country code Kosovo from 2022 onwards

Since 2022, we ask companies to provide their trade in services with Kosovo using the country code XK instead of RS. Prior to 2022, companies were asked to report Kosovo with the code RS under Serbia.
